WELCOME TO GROWING TOGETHER

Growing Together is a community education guide for parents/caregivers, families, children and youth listing courses, groups and workshops available in Hamilton from January to April 2024.

Offered by a variety of local community agencies, the programs and services published in this guide are designed to help parents, children, youth and others learn new skills to better meet the challenges facing today's families. Please direct any questions about a particular listing to the listing contact in the program description.

This star means the course is an “evidence-based intervention”. That means the course has been developed by professionals, uses a manual to provide consistent learning, and has been evaluated for effectiveness.

DISCLAIMER: Courses in this guide are offered by a variety of agencies and services across our community. If you have a question about one of these courses, please call the number listed in the course offering. Inclusion of a group or program in this guide does not imply endorsement by the Ron Joyce Children's Health Centre and McMaster Children's Hospital. Although every effort is made to ensure the accuracy of information in this guide, the Ron Joyce Children's Health Centre and McMaster Children's Hospital are not responsible for errors or omissions.

Growing the Roots of Resilience Group

City of Hamilton
Hamilton Public Health
Child and Adolescent Services

This group series is intended for parents who are in the midst of a separation or divorce who wish to better support their children who may be struggling to adapt to their changing family. The aim is to provide parents with information and skill-building opportunities that will help them to engage in more mindful parenting practices that foster safe, predictable and healthy environments for their children. The group is split into two sets, which alternate four biweekly sessions and present the same information. Parents do not attend the same set. While participation of both parents is strongly encouraged, one parent may attend even if the other is not available.

John Howard Society of Hamilton, Burlington and Area

The Choices in Anger Program is a cognitive skills based program for youth 12 – 17 years who have interpersonal problems as a result of their aggressive behaviour.

The program consists of eight sixty-minute sessions designed to help youth identify their personal aggression patterns, explore alternatives and develop a plan of action to improve how the young person responds to stressful situations. The program is divided into the five components of Anger, Communication, Triggers, Choice Points and Problem Solving.
