

CITY-WIDE CHIEF OF EYE MEDICINE
ST. JOSEPH'S HEALTHCARE HAMILTON & HAMILTON HEALTH SCIENCES

St. Joseph's Healthcare Hamilton (SJHH) is a leading healthcare institution in Hamilton, Ontario. SJHH is dedicated to making a significant difference in the lives of its community members by providing integrated health services and internationally recognized programs. The organization operates under the umbrella of the St. Joseph's Health System, one of the largest healthcare corporations in Canada. Hamilton Health Sciences (HHS) is a comprehensive healthcare system serving Hamilton, Ontario, and the surrounding regions. HHS operates several hospitals and healthcare facilities, providing a full spectrum of healthcare services. As one of Ontario's most extensive healthcare systems, HHS is committed to excellence in patient care, education, and research.

Together, SJHH and HHS are seeking a City-Wide Chief of Eye Medicine. This is an opportunity to step into a role where you can truly make a difference. This position offers the opportunity to lead transformative change in eye care, championing new standards in clinical and academic excellence.

The Position

As City-Wide Chief of Eye Medicine, you will lead a renowned regional eye care program, championing excellence in patient care, education, and research, with a direct impact on shaping the future of eye medicine across the region. This strategic leadership role will involve enhancing integrated service delivery at both SJHH and HHS and, in collaboration with McMaster University, optimizing academic initiatives, and driving innovative research.

This key leadership role involves overseeing the integrated eye care services across multiple facilities, enhancing the synergy between pediatric and adult ophthalmology departments, and ensuring high standards of care are met consistently. You will champion the development and implementation of strategic initiatives aimed at improving patient outcomes, optimizing educational programs, and advancing cutting-edge research. This leadership role is not just about maintaining standards but elevating them, fostering a culture of excellence in clinical care, innovation in treatment practices, and forward-thinking in academic pursuits.

Experience

The successful candidate will be an accomplished ophthalmologist with a proven track record of fostering academic excellence and leading innovations in care. You are a physician licensed by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario or eligible for licensure, as recognized by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada, or other certification that is deemed to be equivalent. You have an academic appointment at McMaster University or should be eligible for one.
